

Field Sciences Speaker/Activity Series

Are you interested in science and working outside?

If so, this series is for you! Please join us to learn about different career opportunities in Field Sciences and how to prepare for those careers. The events are appropriate for freshmen through seniors. Noon time Talks/discussions will last approximately 40 minutes (feel free to bring your lunch).

Please consult the signs often for future speakers or events.

Date	Time	Location	Speaker Name, Title	Agency/Organization
Tues 9/12	2:30-5	Meet by Hallway by BH 104	Help manage UIU prairie Learn woody species management techniques	Dr. Stoffel, Dr. Skrade and UIU grounds (if arriving after 2:30 please see map on Dr. Stoffel's door)
Thur 9/21	12:15- 6:00	Leave from Lot C	Volunteer with Dr. Stoffel for Iowa Natural Heritage Foundation doing ecological management	Brian Fankhauser and Jered Bourquin of INHF are happy to host volunteers. Email or visit Dr. Stoffel by 9/19 to sign up for the event
Mon. 9/25	12:10- 12:45	Baker- Hebron 101	Zac Sedlmayr (2011 alum)	Weiser Senior Conservation Officer Idaho Fish and Game
Friday 9/29	12:10- 12:40	Baker Hebron 101	Amy Holley (2014) Naturalist/Environmental Education Coordinator	Madison County Conservation (IACCB system)
Sat 9/30	7:30-2 pm	Heritage Valley near Waukon, IA	INHF seed collection	Dr. Figdore will transport volunteers. E-mail or visit Dr. Figdore by 9/26 to sign up for the event.

More speakers are currently being organized. Please check this sign often for updates and check emails for professional development opportunities in the field sciences.

Please email Dr. Stoffel with any questions you may have.
stoffelj@uiu.edu (BH 104)